Artwork Title: I AM FEELING GOOD!

Statement: “[Nurse Alavara] is an elf from Spring Land. There, they only have one season: SPRING! She doesn’t usually visit planet earth, but because of Covid-19, she brings natural remedies like flowers, butterflies, and magic sprinkles from her world to heal everyone here at Ascension Providence Hospital. In return she only expects to hear three words: I AM FEELING GOOD! [Butterflies and Blooming Flowers] symbolizes RENEWAL, HOPE and TRANSFORMATION to a happier life. *I drew Alavara's face and flowers by using water color & I drew all the butterflies by hand and colored them by markers. Enjoy!!”

Artwork Title: Peace Lilies

Statement: “Serene watercolors and calming shades make up this beautiful image of something that I love and cherish connecting with: nature! Peace lilies, well, bring peace to the seeker! Nature is always calming and it makes me feel good, whether I'm looking at it or in it, and I hope this positive and peaceful emotion that I feel towards nature can be conveyed to these kids through my artwork!”

Artist Name: Madelyn Hichme

Grade: 12th

School: Stoney Creek High School

Artwork Title: Paper Planes

Statement: “Love often makes you feel swept away. In this painting, I wanted to illustrate how falling in love, or just feeling love in general, can blow you away like a storm blowing away paper airplanes. All the emotions running in can be overwhelming—but in a joyous way, like the multitude of bright colors in a rainbow. I hope that looking at this, along with my message of love, just makes people feel good. The bright colors and child-like memories of a paper airplane were just designed for happiness.”
